Dr. Berkovic is an engaging international wine expert providing articles, lectures, and jurying on national wine expert panels for over 30 years. Well-known on several continents, we are honoured that he is making a stop at the CSCC to talk about the extensive Slovenian wine industry, the unique grape varietals and how they stack up on the international stage.

Dr. Berovic will be sharing his insights about Slovenia’s wines from his perspective as a judge at international wine competitions and most recently after being a jury chairman at the Great American International Wine Competition in Rochester, New York.

He is first touring the Niagara wine region and has agreed to make a stop at the CSCC Headquarters on his way back to Slovenia.

Come for an informal presentation with Marin as he shares stories from his international wine competitions. He will be happy to answer your questions!
